Privacy Policy

Protecting your privacy and personal and financial data is one of our top priorities at TradingCase. This Privacy Policy contains the rules and purposes for processing TradingCase users' personal data as well as the measures we employ to protect this data from unauthorized access by third parties.

1. Collecting personal data

By registering a Personal Area, you agree to have your personal data processed and specifically consent to the collection, systemization, aggregation, storage, revision (updating, changing), usage, anonymization, blocking, deletion, and distribution (transfer) of said personal data to third parties in accordance with the conditions set forth in this Privacy Policy. This consent shall be in effect indefinitely and may be revoked by submitting an appropriate written notice.

We ask you for the data necessary for registering a Personal Area, providing functional service, and using this data if a dispute arises between you and TradingCase. Providing this data is required for user identification and thus allows you to perform various operations in your Personal Area and our trading accounts.

We may also collect data to improve our understanding of your needs and preferences by communicating. You provide this data to us voluntarily. We use the data that you directly provide when communicating.

2. Use of personal data

We use your personal data to provide secure high-quality service.

The personal data you give us is used to verify contact information and identity. We also use personal data to register Personal Areas, provide Managed Accounts and to make purchases on the site www.tradingcase.com. By providing contact information, you help us to improve our services and give you information about additional services, features, and promotions we may be offering.

We may also send you information about changes and new services via email or receive emails with your questions and suggestions. This information is not confidential.

3. Providing personal data to third parties

We do not provide your personal data to third parties except the cases set forth by this Privacy Policy.

We reserve the right to provide personal data to third parties if required by law or if we receive formal requests from law enforcement and other government agencies.

The company is having a right to provide your personal data to taxation authorities or organizations that require the data to be provided in order to comply with laws against money laundering and financing terrorism, or when necessary to protect our rights or property. When transferring your information to third parties we maintain the confidentiality and security of the information being transferred.

In order to give you comprehensive, state-of-the-art high-quality service, we may exchange your personal data with our partners. However, the use of your personal data is limited to sharing your account number with one of our partners at their request.

At your request, we can provide information about the services that our partners provide for us.

4. Limit on liability

This Privacy Agreement is valid only for our website and does not cover other websites, including but not limiting the websites that you go to using links on our website. We recommend you to examine privacy policies of every website you use where personal data transferring is involved.

5. Use of cookies

We use cookies to ensure that our website works effectively and to support your trading activities. Cookies are small text files sent from our web server to your computer. Our cookies do not contain any personal data, account numbers, or passwords.

We may enlist outside organizations to help us manage the website and collect and analyze statistical data. These outside organizations may install and use their own cookies on our behalf.

6. Commencement and amendment of the Privacy Policy

By registering a Personal Area, you acknowledge all the regulations set forth in the Privacy Policy. By accepting the conditions of this Privacy Policy, you agree to allow us to use the information we receive from you via email, including various ideas, methods, marketing designs, and know-how, without incurring any additional obligations. Your personal data is an exception.
